

MAYOR KENDRICK'S VETO.

CITY HAS NO POWER BY CHARTER
TO BUILD PUBLIC DOCKS.Important Special Meeting of Aldermen—
Street Pavement Bonds and Ordinances
Relating to Electric Cars Acted Upon—
Several Amendments Made.

Mayor Kendrick presented to the board of aldermen at its special meeting last night the second veto message of his term of office. The order which failed to secure the approval of the mayor was that recently passed by the court of common council ordering the construction of a public wharf over the Sea street sewer. The veto is accompanied by an opinion on the subject from Corporation Counsel Ely.

The communication from the mayor is as follows: "The charter is very specific regarding the power of the city for the public improvement of streets, the building of sewers and other necessary work, but there is no provision for the construction of wharves and docks by the city. While I am in favor of all necessary public improvements that will benefit our city, and knowing that the time is not far distant when we must take advantage of the few remaining sites for city wharves, which must eventually prove a necessity, yet in consideration of the opinion of the corporation counsel upon the matter, which expressly says the city has no legal power to carry on such work under the present charter, it is my duty to return the order passed for the erection of a public wharf over the sewer at Sea street without my approval.

"I would, however, recommend that the court of common council instruct the corporation counsel to secure the necessary legislation and passage of the bill now pending before the general assembly for power, which will enable the city of New Haven to build and maintain wharves and docks for the protection of the sewer outlets into the harbor, and for the purpose of establishing public landing places thereon for vessels, whenever the court of common council shall deem it necessary for the interests of the city to order such."

The corporation counsel in a lengthy opinion states that the city has no power to erect docks and wharves for a public landing place for vessels and their maintenance under the charter, and that the city has no authority to construct and maintain wharves and docks or lay out highways below high water mark.

After the communications had been read it was unanimously voted to adopt the recommendation of the mayor in reference to the subject, and the corporation counsel was instructed to advocate the bill now pending before the general assembly.

Mayor Kendrick announced as the aldermanic portion of the special committee to act in concert with the citizen's committee and select a site for the Lewis Memorial statue, Aldermen Macdonald and Wells.

The report of the committee on streets recommending the bonding of the city for permanent street pavements provoked considerable discussion. After the report had been read Alderman Blakeslee moved as an amendment to the report that at no time should the amount of such bonds outstanding exceed the sum of $100,000, which amount he said would pay a large area of the city. Alderman Macdonald still further amended the report by making the amount $500,000, and this prevailed by a vote of 11 to 6.

Alderman Blakeslee, after the amount of the bonds had been settled, introduced a resolution to the effect that the life of the bonds should not exceed twenty years, and providing for the establishment of a sinking fund with which to meet the bonds when they came due. The resolution also provided that $25,000 should be paid the first year and $25,000 every year thereafter until all the bonds had been met.

Alderman Macdonald said that in his opinion $25,000 every year seemed to him a pretty heavy sum to pay, whether the city could afford it or not, and favored lengthening out the period to thirty years.

Alderman Hamilton, chairman of the committee on streets, suggested that the length of time be made twenty-five years and the amount to be paid each year $20,000. Finally after a lengthy discussion the amendment of Alderman Blakeslee was adopted.

The remaining section of the report and accompanying senate bills were adopted without change or amendment.

When the report of the committee on ordinances relating to the speed and equipment of electric cars was reached Alderman Bromley introduced a resolution to the effect that the section relating to the speed at which electric cars should be run be amended so as to read that cars should be run at a rate not exceeding ten miles an hour within a radius of one mile of the city hall. The report of the committee within the speed to eight miles an hour within a radius of one-half mile of the city hall. After a brief discussion the amendment was adopted with but few dissenting votes.

In reference to the section relating to cars approaching street crossings Alderman Bromley again introduced a resolution requiring the motorman of any car approaching a street crossing to shut off the power and keep the car under control until the opposite crosswalk is reached. This resolution was unanimously adopted, although the report of the committee adopted.

The question of the equipment of electric cars with fenders was, on motion of Alderman Connor taken out of the

DR. LANSING APOLOGIZES.

HIS ALLUSIONS TO THE PRESIDENT
BASED ON COMMON REPORT.

Since He Has No Personal Knowledge Apart From the Testimony of Those Whose Names He Will Not Give He Withdraws the Statement and Tenders an Apology to the President and the People.

Boston, April 8.—Rev. J. J. Lansing, whose references to the president in his addresses before the New England conference at Salem last Thursday night provoked extended criticism gives out the following statement:

"My allusion made in a temperance address at Salem on Thursday, April 4, to the drinking habits of the president of the United States was based partly on common report and partly on the testimony of eye-witnesses. From various and independent sources which I believed to be wholly reliable I had been informed that the president had been seen on different occasions and in the presence of many persons in an intoxicated condition. From the circumstance and detailed character of the statements I supposed there was no doubt as to the facts alleged. I, therefore, made this allusion as a matter of common report, basing my confidence on the testimony of personal and as I supposed credible witnesses. The names of these witnesses I cannot with propriety reveal, since sharing their knowledge in common with many others they might justly shrink from being singled out and called to verify that of which not only they but others equally with themselves had ocular proof. I must, therefore, say that if my statement reproducing such testimony is not in harmony with facts I regret having made it. I could have neither desire or motive for saying anything unkind or uncharitable of the president or of any party whatsoever.

"The case being one of conflict of testimony between witnesses of equal credibility I cannot decide and since I have no personal knowledge apart from the testimony I withdraw the statement and tender an apology and sincere regrets to the president of the United States and to the people.

WATER-POWER PROJECT.

It is a Scheme to Use the Lachine Rapids Near Montreal.

Montreal, April 8.—A project has been perfected for utilizing the immense waterpower of the Lachine Rapids from Isle aux Hurons to the Montreal shore. A dam about 3,500 feet long is to be constructed parallel with the shore at an average distance of 500 feet from the Island of Montreal. The upper part of this dam is to be submerged and the part towards the centre partially submerged. A cross section will be built connecting the shore with the dam. Upon this section will be constructed a power house, which will contain 72 turbines and 12 dynamos of 750 horse-power each. Below the dam which is to contain the power house, will be constructed another section which will be so placed as to prevent ice in the channel from becoming an obstruction. The dams are to be constructed of crib work filled with stone and lime, with planks on the inside.

The company, which is known as the Lachine Rapids Hydraulic and Land Company, has also 2,700 feet frontage on the river, as well as the water rights on the property to the west. The land owned by the company includes what is known as the Fraser farm, and has a depth of 3,000 feet from the river to the aqueduct. The property will be laid out in about 385 lots, 100x150 each, where it is proposed to start a model town. The dams, under the plan of construction, will allow 1,800,000 cubic feet of water to pass through per minute. The average fall of water at the wheel is eight feet. A large number of prominent capitalists are interested in the enterprise, and it is expected that the work will be pushed ahead immediately. The electrical power which can be developed will be sold to corporations having use for such power.

DISCUSSED THE DECISION.

The President and Secretary Carlisle Hold a Consultation.

Washington, April 8.—The president was informed of the income tax decision shortly after it was rendered by the supreme court and at 1:30 he summoned Secretary Carlisle to the executive mansion and the two discussed the matter for some time. Other members of the cabinet dropped in later, among them the attorney general. The decision was a disappointment but the administration will issue instructions to collectors to conform to the emasculated law. Secretary Carlisle declined to discuss the matter. Attorney General Olney said the government would not ask a rehearing. He was not surprised at that portion of the exciting municipal and state bonds from taxation, but expressed the hope that the question of rents might be brought before the court in some other shape when he entertained the strong belief that the present attitude of the court would be reversed.

Commissioner Miller and the officials of the income tax division held a conference to-night of several hours duration discussing the bearing of the opinion on the present income tax machinery in operation and changing it where necessary to meet the changed condition.

The president, on being asked this afternoon whether in view of the decision of the supreme court on the income tax law an extra session of congress would be called said that neither he nor the secretary of the treasury saw any necessity for such action and that unless there was an unexpected change in conditions he had no idea that congress would meet again before the time appointed for its regular session.

POLICE INDICTMENT CASES.

A Week's Delay in Inspector McLaughlin's
Trial—Time for Killilea to Laughlin.

New York, April 8.—When Police Captain Killilea, who was indicted for taking a bribe in connection with the Yale-Princeton football game in 1892, was called to the bar for pleading to-day, before Justice Barrett in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, his attorney, Frederick J. Grant, asked for delay until next Thursday to prepare a defense for the indictment. District Attorney Fellows consented to this and Justice Barrett accordingly granted the motion. He also granted a motion for one week's delay when the case of Inspector McLaughlin, who is likewise charged with accepting bribes as well as with extortion, was called for trial. As the suspended inspector stepped to the bar Justice Barrett replied to his counsel:

"At a conference with Colonel James last Friday, I already consented to grant him one week's time so that he might be able to dispose of the case he is now engaged in. The case shall be tried at all hazards; however, next Monday, so that Colonel James must send some one to take his place in case he should not be ready himself."

Justice Barrett then adjourned the court. By order of the district attorney to-day the cases against Detective Sergeant Frank and Police Sergeant O'Toole, on charges preferred against them by Dr. Newton Whitehead, were transferred from Part III. of the General Sessions, where Judge Cowing is holding court, to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, where they will probably come up before Justice Barrett next Wednesday.

The Society Receives Many Applications—
Its Grand Council When It
Gathers, Duval, Lely, Will Appear.

Clan McLeod, No. 31, Order of Scottish Clans, initiated two new members at its last meeting and acted on the applications of five others. This is the largest number of applications submitted to the clan in one night since its formation eight years ago, and the indications point to this being the most successful year it has ever had. The order generally is in a very flourishing condition all over the states at present, and many new clans are under formation both in this country and Canada. The amusement committee of Clan McLeod will meet to-night and make preliminary arrangements for their grand concert in the Hyperion ball room, when the great gonor, "Durand Lely," will make his appearance in this city. The committee who have the arrangements in hand are, W. L. Andrew, chairman; royal chief, pro. tem, John Brown; chief, John C. Morton; G. D. Bone, John Rowan, George Wallace, James H. Macdonald and the secretary, James Mustard.

The members of Dayton Hook and Ladder company have decided to lease their suite of rooms in the Quinplac building, annex, for another year. Their Thursday evening dances which have been so well attended will be continued until warm weather.

The horses attached to the delivery wagons of Bradley Brothers, the meat dealers, ran away yesterday morning. The driver of a spirited horse belonging to Elliot Bradley had left the animal near the reservoir to go into a house, when a lad came along and struck the horse with a whip. The horse ran away and continued at a rapid rate up into North Quinplac street, where the wagon collided with the wagon of B. S. Bradley. The wagon was slightly broken and Elliot Bradley's horse was thrown. The B. S. Bradley horse then ran away but was caught further up the street.

TO GOV. MCKINLEY OF OHIO.

COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE STATESMAN'S RECEPTION.

Will Arrive in Hartford at 11:18 P. M. To-day—A Stop to be Made at New Haven—Will be at Union Depot Here at 10 A. M.—Hundreds of New Haven Republicans Will Probably Greet Him—The Program in Hartford To-day—To-night's Grand Banquet.

Hartford, April 8.—Governor McKinley of Ohio will be given a right royal welcome to Hartford to-morrow. He will be entertained in a style befitting his eminence as a statesman. The McKinley club will be assisted in this pleasant duty by the most prominent republicans of the city and state. The distinguished visitor will arrive in the city in the forenoon and will proceed at once to the capitol. In the afternoon he will rest and be entertained quietly and in the evening the formal exercises of greeting will be held from 6:30 to 7 o'clock. At the latter hour an elaborate banquet will be served and speeches, of course, will follow. Governor McKinley will remain in the city Tuesday night, but the program for Wednesday has not been arranged, as it is not known how soon he must leave. If his subsequent engagements will permit he will be given an opportunity to see something of Hartford's beauty and its business enterprises.

Tuesday will be a republican gala day in Hartford. The evening reception and banquet, which will be the crowning feature, will be truly a remarkable gathering. It is certain that between four and five hundred republicans will sit down to the banquet in Foot Guard hall. The republican leaders of the state will be in the party and it will be the largest and most elaborate affair in the history of the party in Connecticut. Every county will be represented and every large city.

The entire republican delegation in the state will be present, as well as several ex-members of congress. All the state officers will attend and two-thirds of the senators and a large delegation from the house of representatives. Mayor Brainard and the other republican mayors in the state will sit down together. The president of the Republican State league will attend. The members of the McKinley club will be there in full force and many members of the other republican clubs in the city and vicinity republican clubs from distant parts of the state will send delegations.

Governor McKinley will arrive in Hartford at 11:18 o'clock, coming on the train leaving New York at 8 o'clock. The drawing room car No. 270 has been assigned for the use of the governor and his friends through the courtesy of the officials of the Consolidated railroad. At Stamford, Bridgeport, New Haven and Meriden delegations of republicans will greet the traveler.

ARRIVAL IN NEW HAVEN.

Governor McKinley will arrive at New Haven at about 10 a. m., and the republican leaders will turn out in large numbers to greet him.

If time allows he may say a few words at the railroad station there.

The McKinley club will send a delegation to meet its guest, consisting of Honorable William E. Simonds, General Alexander Harbison, President John A. Porter, and Vice-President Samuel M. Hotchkiss. This party will probably go as far as New Haven. Several members of the governor's staff, probably including Adjutant-General Graham and General George W. Smith, will be detached to serve as additional escort and may go as far as New Haven also or may meet Governor McKinley at the Hartford depot. Arriving in Hartford the party will drive directly to the capitol where Governor Coffin will meet Governor McKinley at the south door. The visiting governor will be escorted to Governor Coffin's private room and after a few minutes rest and chat he will be taken to the senate and then to the house of representatives. Both bodies having adjourned to meet earlier than usual, especially to be in session when Governor McKinley arrives, it is expected that there will be a crowd at the capitol. In each house Governor McKinley will be presented by the presiding officer. A brief informal reception will mark the visit to each of the legislative chambers to give the members of the general assembly an opportunity to shake hands with the visitor. It is not anticipated that Governor McKinley will make a speech either in the house or in the senate.

After leaving the capitol, Governor McKinley will be driven to the residence of Mr. Peter, the president of the McKinley club, whose guest he will be during his stay in Hartford. In the evening, Governor McKinley will reach Foot Guard armory at 6:15 o'clock. He will be met by the reception committee and escorted into the hall. A reception will be held from 6:30 to 7 o'clock. During this time and throughout the evening the full military band will discourse music from the gallery. The dinner is to begin promptly at 7 o'clock.

PLAN OF THE BANQUET.

The big armory is being decorated lavishly by McKinley for the occasion. Everywhere will be seen the national colors predominating over the other bunting that will be decorative but not emblematic. Foliage plants and rare flowers will bring the beauty of nature to assist in making the decorations. Pictures of McKinley and Lincoln will be among the stage embellishments. The life-size portrait of Governor McKinley that has attracted much attention in the window of the office of "The Post" will be the picture used as a companion to that of the great war president.

There will be seven tables including the first table, which will occupy the space immediately in front of the stage across the hall. The other tables will run lengthwise.

It is expected that an hour and a half will be spent in discussing the dinner and the speeches will begin somewhere near nine o'clock.

THE SPEAKERS.

The following is the list of speakers so far as arranged:

Hon. William McKinley, governor of Ohio.
Hon. O. Vincent Coffin, governor of Connecticut.
Hon. Leverett Brainard, mayor of Hartford.

LAST PUBLIC REHEARSAL.

Of the Oratorio of St. Paul To-night Prior to the Grand Concert.

The last public rehearsal of "St. Paul" prior to the concert attracted an unusually large number of spectators to Harmonie hall last evening. Doubtless many came to familiarize themselves with the score of Mendelssohn's oratorio which has not been heard in New Haven for some years, and is new to the younger generation. It is a wonderful work, certainly, and has enough variety in it to interest all grades of musical appreciation. Both Conductor Agramonte and the chorus attacked the choruses last evening with evident relish and vigor. As far as could be seen the Gounod society will add another stirring success to its already creditable list.

Some of the numbers were given with great power; notably, the first one, "Lord, thou alone art God," the magnificent chorale "Sleepers, wake, a voice is calling," "Stone him to death," "How lovely are the messengers" and "O be gracious, ye immortals," both familiar and new. The chorus, "See, what a Father," sung with great tenderness and feeling; and the stately chorus closing the first part "O great is the depth."

The audience, including a large body of choir singers from Birmingham, remained throughout the entire rehearsal of two hours, apparently as deeply interested as the chorus. Favorable comments were heard on all sides.

It was announced last evening that the sale of seats would open on Monday, April 22. Also that the remaining tickets will be held as follows: Thursday, April 15, Monday, April 22, and Wednesday, April 24.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Address by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore Before the Congregational Club.

The April meeting of the New Haven Congregational club was held at Warner hall last night and was largely attended. The company sat down to an elegant repast at 6:30 o'clock. The feature of the evening was an exceedingly interesting address by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore on "The New Woman." She spoke for over an hour and a half and was listened to the whole time by the large audience with the closest attention. She was introduced by Rev. Dr. W. L. Phillips, the president of the club. In her address she gave a general view of the movement for the higher education of women, which has been going on for the past fifty years. She contrasted the position of woman half a century ago with the eminence she has attained to-day. Vassar college was the first women's college and was opened in 1865. She also spoke of the attitude the new woman takes toward marriage, and also the relations of man and woman in general. She thought that war had done much to aid women in emancipating themselves and that it had removed their self-depreciation. She thought the laws of Massachusetts were framed especially hostile to women.

Professor Chandler and Representative H. G. Newton made brief remarks after her address was finished. James Walker of the West Haven Congregational church and Deacon L. D. Warner of the Naugatuck Congregational church were unanimously elected to membership. The names of Herbert C. Keith, F. H. Cogswell, Edwin H. Lockwood and Lewis D. Chidsey were proposed for membership. Mrs. Livermore greeted many members of the club after the meeting.

ELECTION IN NEW BRITAIN.

IT WAS QUIET ALTHOUGH A GOOD
VOTE WAS POLLED.

There was a little stir at the Fourth Ward Voting Place, where the Envelopes Bore the Signature of Only One of the Booth Tenders, but Patrick McGuire Defeated the Republican Candidate.

New Britain, April 8.—The annual city election was held here to-day and passed off very quietly, although a good vote was polled. The two big parties divided honors exactly, each electing four councilmen and one alderman. The only section in which unusual interest was manifested was in the Fourth ward, where an effort was made by the republicans to defeat Patrick McGuire, the democratic candidate for councilman. His republican opponent, Nelson E. Judd, ran forty ahead of his ticket, but McGuire succeeded in defeating him by 135 votes in spite of this.

At 11 o'clock there was a little stir at the voting place. It was discovered that the envelopes in which the ballots were placed bore the initials of only one of the booth tenders. When Moderator Thomas B. Sheehan's attention was called to this he consulted a lawyer and a little later, calling the challengers and checkers to the ballot box, opened it, took out all ballots cast and caused the booth tender, whose initials were missing, to put them on each envelope.

The ballots were then put back in the box and the voting continued. There was no objection to this plan of correcting what appeared to be a mistake and no trouble occurred in the counting.

Hospital Aid Society.

Friday being Fast day, there will be no meeting of the society this week. During the month of March we have furnished the hospitals with one hundred and five articles, the work being in charge of Mrs. E. L. Austin and Mrs. J. Gibb Smith.

We gratefully acknowledge $1 from Miss Kate Lewis and $5 from Miss Ackerman.

Our work in the future will depend wholly upon the generosity of our friends and the public, as the donations received the past month and the small balance to our credit in the savings bank will be required to meet the bills now due for materials.

All contributions will be received at the Trinity parish rooms Friday mornings or at any time at the house of the president, Mrs. J. B. Sargent, 51 Elm street, or by Miss E. F. Fitch, 58 Olive street.

Jewett Enters Monday.

Jewett, the magician, who is to give an entertainment at the Hyperion theater Easter Monday evening, April 15, under the auspices of Admiral Foote post, is making a specialty this season of Hermann's great bullet-catching feat that had New York by the ears a short while ago. Jewett in this exhibition takes his place on the stage while a squad of militiamen fire at him. Regulation bullets and rifles are used. The magician catches the bullets in his fingers. Much else that is novel and wonderful is comprised in the entertainment. Little Ruby, the world-famous child dancer, will also appear.

Women's Board of Missions.

The April meeting of the New Haven Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions will be held in the Center church chapel on Tuesday afternoon, April 9, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. J. H. De Forest will speak on the mission in Japan, with which she is connected.
